

KHL Championship – Russian Ice Hockey Championship 2014/2015. Stage 2 Guidelines

At the end of Stage 1 (regular season) eight teams from each Conference advance to Stage 2 (playoffs). In each Conference two Division winners are seeded first and second, first being the team with more points scored throughout Stage 1. The other five teams in each Conference are seeded third to eighth depending on points scored and regardless of Division placing.

Higher seeds gain home advantage in every round of the playoffs. In each Conference in every round the highest seed plays the lowest seed, with second highest seed playing second lowest etc.

Note: If none series goes to Game 5, 6 or 7, it is up to KHL Hockey Operations Vice-President to re-schedule next series to an earlier dates.

1. In each Conference every playoff tie (quarterfinals, semifinals and final) is best-of-seven series. Games 1 and 2 (and, if necessary, Games 5 and 7) are played on higher seeded team's home ice. The team winning four games advances to the next round. The team losing four games is out of the competition.

1.1. Conferences quarterfinals

Games to be played on following days:

Conference WEST: February 27, 28, March 2, 3, 5, 7 and 9, 2015

Conference EAST: February 28, March 1, 3, 4, 6, 8 and 10, 2015

1.2. Conference semifinals

Games to be played on following days:

Conference WEST: March 12, 13, 15, 16, 18, 20 and 22, 2015

Conference EAST: March 13, 14, 16, 17, 19, 21 and 23, 2015

1.3. Conference finals

Games to be played on following days:

Conference WEST: March 26, 28, 30, April 1, 3, 5 and 7, 2015

Conference EAST: March 27, 29, 31, April 2, 4, 6 and 8, 2015

2. Conferences finals' winners advance to the Championship's final series, which is also best-of-seven. Games 1 and 2 (and, if necessary, Games 5 and 7) are played on higher seeded team's home ice. The team winning four games becomes the Championship winner and is awarded Gagarin Cup.

3.

Note: If both Championship finalists have the same seeding numbers in respective Conferences, home advantage is awarded to the team with higher number of points scored throughout Stage 1.

Games to be played on following days:

April 11, 13, 15, 17, 19, 21 and 23, 2015